Mr. Cleveland's High Estimate of Carlisle.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Mr. Cleveland's estimate of Carlisle is given in a New York letter to the Philadelphia Press to-day, as follows: "Mr. Carlisle will be a very strong man if he is able to resist the pressure which Cleveland brings upon him to induce him to accept the Treasury Department, and it has been apparent to Cleveland's friends for some time that Carlisle has gained that measure of regard on the part of the President-elect which places him in Cleveland's estimation preeminently above all Democrats. Mr. Cleveland was conversing with a Western Democrat about Mr. Carlisle only a few days ago, and spoke with more enthusiasm than he has ever displayed for any other member of his party. Of the Kentucky Senator's abilities the Western Senator said: 'I think you are right, Mr. Cleveland, in all you say of Carlisle, and it is my opinion that he stands only second to yourself.'"

"Second to myself. No, no; that man, in ability, in the capacity for profound thought and study, for accurate estimating the consequences of legislation, and knowledge of legislation and in insight into financial and taxation problems, is without a peer, in my opinion, in the country."

It was then suggested that Carlisle would find the drudgery and the detail of executive administration of the department an annoyance, when Mr. Cleveland quickly replied: "That has been provided for; a First Assistant will be selected who will take care of those matters, and Mr. Carlisle will be left free to do the more important considerations which will come before him."

STRAIGHT FROM THE SHOULDER.

Sam Jones Preaches to The Negroes of Hopkinsville.

The Hopkinsville News Era gives the following account of a sermon Sam Jones, the noted revivalist preacher, to the negroes at that place. "The special service for colored people at the tabernacle Saturday afternoon drew a crowd that literally packed the vast building from corner to corner. The choir was made up of the best voices from the several colored churches, and the piano and organ presided over with credit by Wesley Smith and John Thompson, two educated and intelligent young colored men. The music has been pronounced the best heard during the revival. Mr. Excell who directed it, being lavish in his praise of the excellence of the voices. The colored people came to hear, and gave close and careful attention to both Mr. Jones and Mr. Stewart. Frequently Mr. Jones' remarks were greeted with enthusiastic demonstrations of approval from his hearers. His plain, blunt, forcible manner and his apparent sincerity won the sympathy and good will of the colored people at once, and showed them that the hard, cold facts with which his discourse was replete were meant for their best interests and intended to open their eyes to the dangers that confront them as a race and a people. "Do you want me to preach in soft language to make you about, or do you want me to give you something to make you think?" asked the evangelist. They wanted it straight from the shoulder. "All right, then, replied Mr. Jones, remember now that this is your choice." Mr. Jones then announced his text as follows: "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord, and the people whom he has chosen for his inheritance."

"I've been my friend in the South when it cost something; and I'm going to talk plainly and kindly to you this afternoon about something you've got to quit before you can ever expect to become a great people or play any considerable part in the history of the world and the triumph of Christianity. No colored man can be thrifting, lazy and indolent and the same time be honest; there are white men who may be honest without working, but they have got money to live on a while indulging their indolence; but when you see a man laying around saloons and street corners doing nothing you can put it down that he is doing a little stealing; let me tell you; there ain't any fat offices for you, nothing for you but hard, honest toil, and nothing is nobler when you remember that Jesus Christ set you an example

IS FOR REFORM.

Judge Gresham Talks of His Position in Politics.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Judge Walter Q. Gresham returned to Chicago this evening. He spent only two days in the city, and while here his room at the Arlington was crowded with callers irrespective of party to pay their respects to the distinguished and upright jurist and able citizen. Judge Gresham is extremely popular in Washington, as he is wherever he is known. He conversed freely with the Courier Journal's correspondent last night on the result of the elections, and expressed himself as delighted beyond measure over the great triumph of the people against the tariff measures. He said:

"I want you to understand that I am not a Democrat only so far as the Democrats go my thinking. That is to say, that I am only a Democrat on the tariff and economy positions. I consider the tariff as the only great question dividing the two parties. If the Democrats, when they take charge, will carry out their pledges sincerely and consistently and knock out the protection fraud, I will stay with them and so will hundreds of thousands of independent voters who voted for Cleveland in November. But should the Democrats fail to keep their pledges, not one of these men will be found voting the Democratic ticket in 1896. I feel pretty good, though, about the future for the fact that Carlisle is going to take the Treasury is a guarantee that the new tariff bill will give tariff reformers satisfaction. It is gratifying to know that we have a man like Carlisle to help Cleveland through the great tariff fight which will soon be upon us. Carlisle is a great man and knows all about the tariff and can make no mistakes. I predict for him a successful career in the Treasury, and also in two years I expect to see the finances of the country so plain and so simple that a boy can write a statement of the Treasury and understand it. As it stands now the more statements we read of the condition of the Treasury the less we know. But Carlisle can be trusted and he will succeed in bringing order out of chaos, and if he does he is my candidate for President in 1896, and there is not a man in the country that can beat him for the nomination and election."

A MEAN TRICK.

He Wanted To Become a Mason, and He Was Taken In.

"I had the meanest joke played on me at Indianapolis the other day that a white man was ever called upon to endure," said Frank Glidewy, as he got outside of a rectangular meal at the Lindell table d'hôte. "I had been wishing for some time past to become a Mason. I had talked a great deal about it, and my ambition became pretty well known to the traveling fraternity. About a dozen drummers were Sundaying at a hotel in the Hoosier hub, and they put up a job on me that for breadth and depth of depravity stands without a parallel."

"Tom Gaines—everybody known Tom—lives in Indianapolis. He was selected to steer me against the game. He pretended to be 'way up in G. in Masonry, Grand Master Mortar Mixer, or something or other of a small lodge in the city. Tom said that his lodge met on the Monday night next, and that if I desired to become a member he would see me through and give me all the sixty-six degrees; said the usual fee for going through the entire gamut was $200, but that business was a trifle dull and they had reduced the rate for the month of October, and I could go through a flying for $50. But? Of course I bit, and bit hard. No sucker ever made such hot haste to swallow a hook in Indiana as I did. The rest of the gang pretended to leave town next day, but it was only a blind."

"Well, sir, next night Gaines steered me against the goat. I had an idea that the initiatory rite was a hair-riser but had no conception of its true horror. I was ushered into a dimly lighted hall among goblins, ghosts and chimeras dire. I was tied on the back of a large be-gost that buckled like a Mexican mustang, and the whole gang of goblins chased my Pegasus over benches and boxes for a half an hour. Then I was plunged into a hoghead of ice water. After I had partially recovered I was stripped, stood on a pedestal and painted like a zebra. Suddenly the lights went out. The mystic brotherhood chanted a lot of rot around me, the Grand Master Mortar Mixer leading the strophe and the Grand Master Hod-carrier doing the antistrophe act. Then I was informed that I would be required to stand without moving for one hour as a test of my endurance. I was told that I circled about with spear points and that to move meant death in large quantities, delivered suddenly. "Then the Grand Master Ladder Holder commanded silence, and I proceeded to endure. It was the longest hour I ever saw. It seemed to stretch out through all eternity and lap over the edge. I stood there from midnight until 5 o'clock. Then daylight began to creep through the windows, and I found that I was alone. The Grand Master Mixer and his gang of fiendish Putes had made a sneak, leaving me standing there in the cold, like Patience on a monument, with only red, white and blue stripes for covering. I bought a double-action revolver that carried a ball as big as a door-knob and started out to look for Tom Gaines, but learned that he had gone to Mexico for the winter. If he years to see his grandchildren playing about his knee he had best stay there."—Globe Democrat.

In a bad way. Fanny (who is engaged to Charles)—Charles, don't you remember you said you would buy me the first hand-some ring you saw. Here in this window is a regular beauty.

MUST HANG.

Milligan, the Paducah Wife Murderer, Must pay the Penalty.

Paducah, Ky., Jan. 12.—At 11:30 o'clock to-day, after being out just thirty minutes, the jury in the case of Francis Milligan, a white man, who has been on trial for two days for murdering his wife, brought in a verdict of guilty, and fixed death by hanging as the penalty. This murder was one peculiarly inhuman. It occurred at 10 o'clock at night, on the 20th of July, 1889, at Maxon Mills, six miles from this city. Milligan chopped the whole back of the woman's head off. A man by the name of George Willers, a German optician of St. who was making his way home on foot, was the only witness. He had been sick with fever and had been enjoying Milligan's hospitality for some ten days. He left, and the nearly four year's delay has been caused by his continued absence. On the night of the murder he ran a mile and a half to a store barefooted and bareheaded and told what had occurred. Nobody would believe him. In a few moments, however, Milligan followed him, and when asked if it was so, he replied: "Yes; G—d—her, I chopped the whole back of her head off." Several persons then accompanied Milligan to his home, where they found the murdered body of the woman on the floor bed in the yard. Milligan raised to his wife's head in his arms and remarked, "Darling, you brought this on yourself." He went into the house, and with his hands and face besmeared with the blood of his wife went to bed and slept soundly till morning. Milligan slept soundly till morning. The news says: "Francis Milligan who was yesterday convicted of murder in the first degree and the death penalty fixed, says he don't want a new trial or his case to be appealed. He says he either wants his freedom or to be hanged, and he talks like he doesn't care which favor is shown him. His four years confinement in jail has had its effect upon him, and he longs for freedom or an end to his life."

KENTUCKY NEWS.

J. W. Sullivan and J. M. Blakely merchants at Williamsburg, have quit handling tobacco because they think it wrong and injurious to the health of their customers.

W. H. Hunter, of Belmont, Ky., a Deputy United States Marshal, and Robert R. Osborne, a member of the Board of Ashland for $30,000 damages. Both were arrested and imprisoned fifteen minutes after arriving in town for carrying pistols.

Sam Jones closed his ten days meeting at Hopkinsville with 350 converts, and 120 additions to the various churches of that city.

Another tragedy has been enacted in the home of Mort Shelby, of Ballard county, the man made notorious by the murder of Mrs. Moore (of which he was suspected) and the subsequent lynching of his brother, Evan Shelby. This latest tragedy is the death of his daughter, Elvira, aged 16, at the hands of his eight-year-old son, Mort Shelby, jr. As is usual in such cases, the pistol was supposed not to be loaded, and acting on that supposition the boy aimed deliberately and fired. The bullet went directly through the girl's heart, and the young lady instantly expired. The funeral took place yesterday. The young lady is said to have been of unusual intelligence and beauty.—Paducah Standard.

Fred Lady, Johnson Lady and George Rodgers are under bond at Kuttawa for an unprovoked assault on Mr. C. T. Aiken. Aiken received several severe wounds on the head, and it is believed he would have been killed but for the timely interference of City Marshal McCullum, who had to fire at the assailants before he could persuade them to desist.—Paducah Standard.

Orlean Downey, of the Richland country, last season did well in the way of tobacco raising. He had 9,500 plants, making about two and one-half acres, and from this produced 5,200 pounds of tobacco. He sold to James Young at 7 cents round and received therefor the nice sum of $364. The poorer farmers learn the important fact that a small acreage well tended is better than a large one-half worked, the sooner will they learn how to be successful in their undertakings.—Madisonville Hustler.

Young Women, Go West.

New York, Jan. 13.—The Rev. Father Callaghan, of the Mission of Our Lady of the Rosary, has received a novel request from Hotel-keeper Dineen, of Huron, South Dakota, through Father Brown, of St. Vincent's church, at Springfield, S. D. Mr. Dineen said that he and his neighbors wanted a curfew of marriageable Irish girls shipped to Huron. Mr. Dineen said that husbands were as abundant as blackberries in July, and land could be had for the asking in South Dakota. Those who were not anxious to marry at once could get steady employment and good wages for an indefinite period.

ISSUED WEEKLY.

R. C. WALKER, Publisher.

Ex-President Hays is dangerously ill.

What has become of McKinley and Reed?

Mr. Blaine still lives, but hope for his recovery is fled.

In life Ben Butler was called every thing but a fool; many of his obituaries read about the same way.

Tennessee's new Governor was sworn in Monday. He is very ill, and took the oath of office while in bed.

Missouri does not propose to lease her convicts unless seventy-five cents per day for each one's labor can be realized.

Prohibition does not always prohibit; neither will good laws make good roads; public sentiment is the most powerful of all laws.

The disease that is bearing Mr. Blaine slowly but surely to the grave is now said to be a mystery so far as the public is concerned.

It is an old saying, and it now appears that the Democrats are now confronted with the "silver lining."

New York Democrats are promising for another fight. A New York Democrat is never happy except when he is fighting another New York Democrat.

The Populists captured Kansas in the election, but the Republicans appear to be in charge of the first where the choice tickets of public life are disposed.

The Murray Ledger keeps on improving and growing in usefulness. It is now a six column eight page paper, handsomely printed, well edited and extensively patronized.

Jerry Simpson, the sockless Statesman, has left the scene of the national contest in Kansas, and returned to his duties at Washington. He has relinquished the hope of being the United States Senator from his State. The middle befuddled Jerry.

The twenty-fifth annual session of the National Woman's Suffrage Association is being held in Washington this week. A quarter of a century's work has done but little towards giving woman the attributes of men, but the Association does not appear to be discouraged.

A whisky trust is gobbling up the big distillers, and will make an immense lot of liquor this year, in anticipation of an increase of the internal revenue tax on this article. The proposition to increase the tax has grown in public favor since it was first mentioned, and will probably be one of the first acts of the next Congress.

The Democrats and Third party folks in Kansas have been playing partners for a year or two; but since the middle in the Legislature, each has served the other with a dissolution notice, and each will set up business for itself. In short the old allies are making faces at each other, while the few straight Democrats in that State are enjoying the fun.

The Senatorial fight at Frankfort is warming up. Congressman Stone and McCreary arrived at the scene of battle Tuesday night, and all the candidates are on the ground marshalling their forces. There is no inferior timber in the whole lot. Stone, McCreary, Brown, and Breckinridge have had large experience in national legislative matters; Lindsay is a Saul among the lawyers of the State, and Clay is a clever politician. The Press regards each of them as good timber, but sincerely hopes that our own popular, worthy, able, pure, Congressman will win the honorable prize. He will go into the fight with every Democrat member from the, his district for him.

A Frankfort correspondent writing under date of the 14th, estimates the strength of the Leontorial aspirants as follows: Brown, 24; Stone, 18; Clay, 17; Lindsay, 14; McCreary, 14; Breckinridge, 10. The same writer says:

"There are, however, those prominent enough to make their opinion of weight, who assert that Messrs. Breckinridge, and Stone and the others who have been mentioned as possible candidates will not enter at all, and that the actual race will narrow down to Brown, Lindsay, Clay and McCreary, and upon this basis the lobby lists of caucus supporters would need general revision." Under the latter contingency the following estimate of the first ballot is made: Brown, 41; Clay, 24; Lindsay, 19; McCreary, 14.

Hill and Tammany Hall have parted company, so say the dispatches. Croker, the leader of Tammany charges Hill with betraying Cleveland in the election, and points to the comparatively small vote for the president-elect in the New York counties, where the Hill influence was strongest. Then it is said that Hill went down to Albany about the time Tammy was electing a United States Senator, and Croker said he ought to be at Washington attending to his own business. It looks like Tammy proposes to stand by Mr. Cleveland while Hill still bears the name of a Democrat.

The friends of a number of would be members of Cleveland's cabinet are reported as urging upon the President-elect the claims of their favorites. While we read of this, it is refreshing to look upon Mr. Carlisle's position. No Kentucky delegation has gone to Mr. Cleveland singing psalms of the great Statesman; no factions have urged his claims; his fitness is universally acknowledged, and instead of his knocking at the President's door for admission, the President has knocked at the great Kentuckian's door, and earnestly invited him to be one of his counselors. We are Kentuckians still.

Ex-Governors Knott and Buckner made a trip to New York last week to see Mr. Cleveland, and as a result of their pilgrimage to the Mecca, it is announced that Senator Joe Blackburn has put away any aversion he may have had with the next President-elect. All the Kentucky politicians are patching up any differences they may have had with the next President, except perhaps Henry Watterson, whose lance is so free and independent that it seeks no truth, asks no quarter, as the old warrior wants no office for himself nor friends.

Cassius M. Clay, Jr., who has designs upon Mr. Carlisle's seat in the Senate, writes a card proposing that the candidates pledge themselves not to use any money, "to improperly influence a vote in the General Assembly." The existence of such a pledge would indicate that there is a necessity for it. Notwithstanding the inability of the Legislature to enact laws and its other numerous shortcomings, we are not prepared to believe that it is purchasable for any purpose whatever.

Mr. J. W. Skelton, of Marion, is already in the field as a candidate to represent Crittenden county in the very next Legislature. The past, or present General Assembly has not learned to emulate the serpent—to shed their skin. Though apparently shy for declarations of candidacy should the next legislative body have the longevity of the present, Mr. Skelton might have come out sooner.—Union Local.

Devilment in Henderson.

The grand jury returned into court thirty-four indictments, one for failing to furnish map of coal mines, seven for selling liquor without license, two for burglary, nine for selling liquor in prohibition district, three for selling liquor to a minor, one for hunting on Sunday, one for crap shooting, four for carrying concealed weapons, one for injuring property, one for robbery, and three for malicious shooting.—Henderson Journal.

DEAD.

Frederick O., Jan. 17.—Ex-President Rutherford B. Hayes died at 11 o'clock to-night. Early in the evening an inquiry elicited the response that the General had passed a fairly well day, and was resting nicely this evening. The change from better to worse was rapid and 11 o'clock the distinguished ex-President passed away. The first intelligence of this was received when Webb C. Hayes came down and quickly announced that his father had just died.

Congressional Brevities.

Congressman Outwater wants frequent redemptions of National Bond and Treasury notes. He fears the spread of disease through the handling of old and much used paper money. A bill will be favorably reported abolishing the various pension agencies, and providing for the payment of pensions direct from Washington. The object is to decrease the expenses of handling the pension funds.

An effort will be made to establish by Congressional enactment a permanent census bureau.

Mr. Caine, the delegate from the territory will push a bill for the admission of Utah into the sisterhood of States.

A joint resolution for a committee of United States Senators by popular vote passed the House without a division.

The extent of the work of the present Congress will be the passage of the appropriation bills. The important matters of legislation will be left for the next session to deal with.

Mr. Dearmond (Dem.), of Missouri, introduced in the House to-day a bill to suspend, during the first year of each Presidential term, all civil service laws, rules and regulations in so far as they do, or might, restrict or interfere with the free exercise by the President or heads of departments of the power to remove or appoint officers or employees of the Government. A preamble to the bill says that no Administration can fully and satisfactorily carry its policies into execution if a large portion of such officers are hostile to such policies.

It Passed.

For the second time the bill appropriating $100,000 for Kentucky's display at the World's Fair has passed the Legislature. It passed the House last week by a majority of one, and on Monday day it passed the Senate by a vote of 21 to 9. There can be no mistake this time and as soon as governor signs it, it will be law.

FREDONIA.

The young people had a nice party at Frank Hughes last Friday night, three or four of the surrounding neighborhoods were represented, all seemed to enjoy the evening.

At 1:30 a. m. Sunday a good tenant house belonging to Mrs. M. J. Wyatt, was burned down, it was occupied by Frank Morris family, col. It is supposed to have caught from a defective chimney, and was so well under way burning when the family awoke, they had but little chance to save the contents, quite a crowd were at the scene but too late to be of any assistance.

Henry Glenn is having a considerable addition made to the house on his farm in the New Bethel neighborhood. It will be occupied by Fred Blick and family.

A considerable interest is being manifested by quite a number of the ladies in this community in the study of the Bible, in a Sunday school capacity, thereby setting an example worthy of imitation to others of the town and vicinity all of whom they cordially invite to join them in their efforts to learn more of God, and be a blessing to their fellow creatures.

TOLU.

The cold weather seems to have a cinch on the turbid Ohio. The river is frozen over from shore to shore and as water generally freezes with the slick side up it makes skating the order of the day.

Our merchants are doing a good business, especially for this season of the year.

Miner & Franks have sold their stock of dry goods and groceries to Crider & Co.

We understand there is to be a roll r mill built at Tolu this spring.

There is quite a demand for hogs in this section, buyers are as thick as candidates before an election.

We are to have a political race we want it understood that no Democrat need apply whose Democracy is not and has not been true to his party all along the line. Third party apostles and prohibition prophets are not in it.

Union Labor and F. M. B. A's, and Farmer's Advocate lecturers all seem to have been detrimental to the cause of Democracy, consequently they are a back number, notwithstanding they are good citizens.

F. M. Clement would make us a good Senator. He beat Bro. Orr once and he can beat him again. Orr's to you, Major.

Paganism had its altars; its shrines; its sacred groves; its temples; its vestal virgins; its priests; its augurs; its elysian fields; its gods; its goddesses and its spirit of good and evil.

Marion has its court house; its opera house; its still house and its judges; clerks and sheriffs and in fact most all of the offices within the gifts of our good people for the last fifteen or twenty years. And still we are not complaining about it.

Our little town can boast of its beautiful location; its morality; good school; refinement; education; health; society; good citizens; pretty girls and precious old bachelors.

We are sorry to say that we have no poet in our community. Alas! 'tis sad, but true.

Moore & Beard say we are selling more goods and groceries and drugs for less money than any firm in the county.

DYCUSBURG.

Mr. Editor.—Thinking perhaps you and your many readers of your valuable paper would like to hear from Dyucusburg, which is situated in the extreme Southern part of Crittenden county, on the bank of the beautiful Cumberland river. We have no railroads, but yet our little town is on a boom.

W. P. Glenn will soon open his new brick hotel on the corner of Main and Water streets, which will be first class in every respect and will be called the Richmond House.

Capt. McKee will erect a new merchant mill here in the spring, which he hopes to have in full operation by wheat harvest.

There will also be erected in the early spring a new Baptist church, and last but not least, our city fathers will build a calaboose or lockup to confine the violators of the law in, for which let us all return thanks, and when completed, if things do not change, Judge Hill, who is a holy terror to the evil doers, will keep that valuable institution full up. We need a good town marshal who would not drink whisky and would enforce the law on the high and the low, the rich and the poor all alike. Such men are scarce and in demand.

Well, now for the business of Dyucusburg; there is two churches here, one school, four good dry goods stores, one hardware house, one family grocery, two saloons.

S. H. Cassidy & Co. have an extensive tobacco factory here and have bought largely of wood and have paid good prices this season.

The health of our people is splendid, the weather is very cold.

Lots of ice running in the Cumberland; think she will close over with ice in a day or two if the weather does not moderate.

Wishing you and the many readers of the Press a happy New Year, I remain yours, Nancy Hanks.

Engene Brown has returned from a business trip to Illinois.

The County Assessor, assessed the town this week.

Miss Lina Clement who has been visiting in the neighborhood, returned to her home.

T. H. Prewett has just received a fine line of military and stoves.

Our mail box has gone on the road again and will do a good business as long as the boats are in port.

Die! Jones who cut Benton last week has escaped and Benton is improving.

Died at the residence of W. M. Hill, Little Willie son of Theo. Vosier, Jan. 12th. Mr. and Mrs. Vosier have the sympathy of the entire community in this bereavement.

Our public school closed last Friday Mr. J. K. Glass and Miss Lina Clement of Dyucusburg have given satisfaction and deserve credit for the work they have done. The teachers life is a hard one, we know from experience and we would recommend such teachers as have just left us to any community who want a good school.

The town trustees met Monday night and are contemplating a lockup for the benefit of the boys who get too much Tom and Jerry, and such like some of us have been urging peace a long time, so may it be.

Costly Affections.

Big Damage Suit in the County of Caldwell.

Princeton, Ky., Jan. 16.—Wm. F. Holeman has filed suit in the Caldwell Circuit Court against R. P. Hubbard for $50,000 damages for alienating his wife's affections. This suit grew out of the sensational scandal of last week. They are all prominent citizens of this county, and belong to the oldest families of this section of the state. Mrs. Holeman is a beautiful woman of 24 years, while Hubbard is a man of family and nearly 50 years old.

In that precinct last year, there were 19 marriages; 30 deaths and 88 births, of which 47 were boys and 41 girls.

Obituary.

Died at Dyucusburg Jan. 10, 1893, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Vosier, Jr., aged four years, six months and twenty-one days. The family came from their home at Marion to visit relatives at this place, and he was stricken down with fever and lived only a few days. 'Tis indeed, with heartfelt sympathy for the grief-stricken parents that we endeavor to write this last and tribute of respect in memory of their beloved cherub, little Willie, who was his parents' idol and a general favorite with all who knew him. Yes, how deeply we sympathize with them in their irreparable loss of such a promising child regretting that sympathy cannot heal the broken hearts. Lighted with a soul of purity, innocence and love, he has gone to fill his seraphic mission above.

Weep not dear mother for "God doeth all things well." "Into each life a flame must fall." Now there is a "link that binds you to heaven," a light above that is beckoning you to come. We can only recommend the bereaved family to the benediction of the Holy Spirit, and pray that they, and we all, when we pass "Over the River" may stand with little Willie among the redeemed in the presence of a true God. I & L.

Obituary.

Ruby Elvin Moore was born July 19, 1868, died Jan. 10, 1893, aged four years, five months, and twenty-one days. She was kind and sweet in disposition. She often said she loved everybody. She often talked of heaven and asked her mamma many times about Jesus. She was remarkably bright, having learned all the letters of the alphabet and began to spell when a little over three years old. She had a very beautiful, bright expression on her face just before she died. She would look at her mamma, papa and grandma with the sweetest smile as if she would tell them where she was going and for them to meet her in heaven. She always said she was going to be a good girl and go to Jesus. Fond parents, you cannot but weep, but weep tears of joy as well as sadness, for you have a jewel in glory. Her sunny smiles are still beaming upon you and welcoming you to her bright home. Live on to meet this sweet babe in glory. Pastor.

MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARED.

Miss Sallie J. Moore Missing
From Her Friends in New York.

Three months ago Miss Sallie J.
Moore, daughter of the late Rev. W.
T. Moore, left here and went to New York to live with her sister, Mrs.
Willie Crowell. Since the death of her father Miss Sallie has resided most of the time with her sister, Mrs. Geo.
Boston of this place. Three months ago at the solicitation of her sister in New York, she went to that place to live. A special to the Courier Journal from New York under date of the 17th, contains the following story of Miss Moore's sudden and mysterious disappearance on Monday last:

"Miss Moore left her sister shortly after 10 o'clock on Monday forenoon
to go to Stern's dry goods store, on Twenty-third street, to exchange some goods. After that she intended to go to see a dressmaker named Machmet at 34 East Twenty-third street. Miss Moore did not return, and her friends
do not know what has become of her.
They have traced her to Stern's, but can find no clue to her whereabouts after that. She was pretty familiar with the West Side, but had never traveled on the East Side at all. Mr.
and Mrs. Crowell think she has got lost in the city."

When the news reached here Wednesday, Miss Moore's many friends of greatly surprised and grieved. They are unable to account for her disappearance. Her sister Mrs. Boston thinks that it is probable that she has found employment in a dress making establishment, and keeping her whereabouts a secret because her New York relatives were decidedly opposed to taking that course; and offered her a home where she need not work, but Mrs. Boston says her sister has an independent disposition, and dislikes the idea of being dependent upon others.
The missing girl is fairly educated,
very pleasant and very beautiful.
While here she endeavored to earn a living by teaching, but was not successful. Her father was well known in this section, and the family is one of the best known and most highly respected in Western Kentucky.

Marion will certainly have a new cemetery.

From Monday of last week to Monday of this week, inclusive, ninety drummers visited Marion.

Wiley Leeper who was fined $100

J. N. Woods.

Don't forget that J. W. Johnson is in the grocery business and wants your trade; he will give bargains.

Clocks, Clocks.

Still a good stock of the best goods
at J. N. Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Cardin have come to Marion to spend the remainder of the winter. They have rooms at Dr. Soper's.

Mr. H. M. Cook is handling the Marion Hotel to the satisfaction of the traveling public. He is a popular hotel man.

New stock of overcoats, just received
as good as there is on the market.
Mens, womens and misses.

J. N. Woods.

J. W. Johnson is the place to buy groceries; he also keeps on hand flour,
meal and provisions.

A big hog is now worth more than an ordinary meek cow; notwithstanding the cranberry has increased the price of cows.

Keep the butter and cheese factory.
Industries of this kind are directly and indirectly beneficial to every man in

I wish to buy new goose feather, for which I will pay the highest market price in cash or goods.

J. N. Woods.

J. W. Johnson has a repair shop in his store. Bring your shoes and boots that needs repairing and have it done cheap.

Mrs. T. J. Cameron has opened a hotel at her residence. Her house is a spacious and elegant one and she has had experience as a hotel keeper.

If the charters proposed by the Legislature for sixth class towns should be adopted no town election will occur
until next November.

If you are in town Monday, or any other day, drop into the Puss office and leave your name and a dollar, and get the county news for a year.

The price of farming lands in this county is going up. Recently several farmers who thought they were anxious to sell have been offered their price, and when thus cornered, declined to sell.

Don't fail to get your clover seed,
as you will save big money; I will guarantee price for sixty days, if you buy from me; should they go lower your money refunded to that extent.

A protracted meeting is in progress
at the Cumberland Presbyterian church, Rev. J. F. Price is conducting the services. Rev. B. T. Watson, of Princeton, is expected to pay.

OUT NEW CIRCUIT JUDGE.

CLIFTON J. PRATT.

We are indebted to the Madisonville Hustler for the excellent profile of Judge Pratt, which is on this page.
Of him the Courier-Journal says:
"Clifton J. Pratt, of Madisonville, the newly elected Circuit Judge of the Fourth judicial district, was born in Woodford county, Illinois, but moved at an early date to Kentucky, where he has since resided. He chose the profession of the law and has practiced at Madisonville for twenty years. In 1879 he was elected to the Senate from the counties of Hopkins and Christian, carrying both counties, and in this capacity served with marked ability.
In 1886 he made the race for Circuit Judge against Judge Grace, one of the ablest and most distinguished jurists in the State, but was defeated by a small majority. At the late election Judge Pratt was successful, carrying three of the four counties,

comprising the district, defeating his opponent, Hon. T. J. Nunn, of Marion, a gentleman of great merit.
Judge Pratt is a close student, a deep thinker, of liberal mind and broad views, a forcible speaker, an able lawyer and a gentleman of culture and refinement. He has always been a Republican and has always won the respect and good will of all parties.
The Fourth judicial district will find in him an able and impartial Judge, attentive to business and courageous in the discharge of his duty."

PERSONALS.

Mr. J. T. Bradburn has purchased Ben McEwan stock of groceries. He will move from Sturgis to this place shortly.

A two-year-old boy of Mr. C. C.
Woodall, who lives two miles South of Marion, died Tuesday morning, of dysentery.

Hogs, cattle and everything has advanced. So clover seed; before you get your clear out of sight, you had better call at Schwab's and get what you need. He has plenty.

The election and Christmas excitement is past. It is time to study our own interest; buy your groceries and seed where you can buy cheapest,
which always has always will be at M.
Schwab's.

Mr. J. W. Paris, the Ford's Ferry postmaster, came out Monday with a mail pouch, bringing mail and hunting mail. The river towns without star routes, are completely shut off, and are of course very unhappy.

Call on H. T. Flannery to have your watch, clock or jewelry repaired. He has employed W. A. Lettinger, the expert jeweler, and does all grades of work in the most satisfactory way.
All work warranted.

The thermometers of Marion are a good deal like the watches, no two of them register alike at the same time.
The temperature Saturday night as registered by the variously located thermometers of Marion ranged from zero down to 12 below.

The Presbyterian Ladies' Society of this place received from Mr. R. K.
Dunkerson, of Evansville, last week,
a handsome donation of $50, to be used on payment of their church debt.
They desire us in for and behalf of the Ladies and entire church their sincere thanks to the kind donor.

The coal men at Marion have been doing a big business recently; they have not increased the price of the black diamonds, but they have sold out as fast as they receive. One car is all they can get at one time, and as soon as it arrives there is a big rush
for it, and but a short time is necessary for it to disappear.

While sugar and coffee has advanced
I will still give you 18 pounds granulated, or 21 pounds New Orleans open kettle for $1; 4 1/2 pounds of the very best coffee, and 5 1/2 pounds of medium coffee for $1. Soda has advanced 1-2 cent a pound, but we will still give you 6 pounds for 25 cents.

Mr. M. Schwab had added to his already large stock so extensively that he now occupies the two business houses under the opera house. He does an immense business. His trade probably covers a larger territory than any other retail merchant in Western Kentucky. I addition to his retail business, he is building up a good wholesale trade.

Moses Lamb Dead.

Yesterday at noon Mr. Moses Lamb
died at his home in the Sugar Grove church neighborhood, after an illness of several weeks. He was 73 years old, and was reared in the community in which he died. He was a true Christian gentleman, a highly respected citizen. He leaves a large family, all respected and useful people.

NOT ANXIOUS FOR BOARDERS.

The High Prices for Grab Wor-ring "Uncle Joe."

"How many boarders have in the county jail?" "Just now I have three and I am not worrying for others either.
In truth I hope the boys will be good at least until the grub costs less."

The above query was made by the Puss and the answer came from "Uncle Joe," the county jailer. This important official gets fifty cents a day
for keeping prisoners, and he feeds well three times each day, making the price of a meal 16 2/3 cents, to say nothing of the lodging. The jailer is no farmer, and he has to buy everything
he uses, and with hog and hominy, clear out of sight, "Uncle Joe" is not drowning of wealth to be seized and enjoyed, when the court of claims, scrutinings, and passed his bill, or even when the State turns over the 50 cents daily board bill for her prisoners, without coming over each item.

We have received some samples of very fine corn recently. About the best was raised by Mr. Phil Croft. It is gratifying to note that the farmers are greatly improving their mode of farming, and along with this they are making their farms more productive, their homes more comfortable, while social, educational and religious advantages are in the ascending scale.

Rev. Mr. Newton, of Cadiz, preached the funeral discourse of the late J.
M. Brawner, at the Methodist church Sunday. He is an old friend of the family, and since 1860 was a warm friend of the deceased. In the sermon he paid a high tribute to the character of the late Mr. Brawner, whom he spoke of as a plain, study,
unassuming devout and faithful Christian.

When the flowers bloom, the birds sing, and the spring showers kiss the earth, the natives of our river towns and communities are happy, and are slow to admit that railroads towns are blessed like themselves; but when old King Boreas blows his breath, and shakes the icicles off of his hoary beard, while he spreads a crust of crystal over the river, then you see the river rats coming out to us country jakes for the news as well as for other commodities
chat grace the table, adorn the person, and soothe the inner man. Move out boys, and hitch on to the move.

I have the largest and best selected stock of glassware and queensware that I ever kept here; I will sell it 25 per cent. lower than any other else in the three counties; for instance,
Cups and saucer, per set 15c
Eumblers, per set 20c
Fine goblets, per set 25c
Plates, per set, from 25c to 30c
Extra glass pitcher 5c
Tea spoons, per set 5c
Table spoons, per set 10c
In knives and forks I am not to be beat, from 45 cents a set up to $2.50.

County Court Notes.

Edgie Gains, eight year old son of Alfred P. Gains, was bound to T. C.
Owen.

L. S. Telford & Co., were allowed
$6.00 for repairs on pump.

H. Hughes qualified as administrator of W. T. Rushing, deceased.

Shoeing Will Recover.

It is now reported that Worth Shoe
who was shot by Riley, as published last week, is in a fair way to recovery.
Besides the hole in his breast, a bullet grazed the back of his neck. It is said that after being shot, Shoe ran into the house and knocked Riley down. Riley has not yet been arrested, according to one report he has left the country, while it is stated that he is hiding in the neighborhood.

Good Grades.

The teachers examined last week,
passed very creditable examinations.
The following is the grade each of the six received:

Elvie Crider, 95.8.
Nellie Walker, 91.4.
Cleo Nunn, 83.5.
Frank Orr, 83.4.
T. J. Davidson, 83.2.
Josie Moore, 77.7.
Saturday, Dick Waddle, col., was examined, and his grade was 79.

Nearly Severed the Jugular Vein.

Princeton, Ky., Jan. 16.—Yesterday two six-year-old boys, one a son of Sam Deboe, and the son of Tom McNeely, living in the north part of this county, were shooting matches by placing them on a block and striking them with an ax. The Deboe boy got in the way of the ax and received a long slash in his neck, nearly severing the jugular vein. The boy was so weakened from the loss of blood before a physician could be secured that his recovery is very doubtful.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given the public that my son Rochester Wallingford is in no way whatever authorized to do business for me or in my name. I will not be responsible for any transactions of his, nor will I pay any debts he may make. The public is especially warned against paying him
any money for me; he is not authorized to collect, and the payment to him will not be recognized by me as the settlement of a debt.

Another Constable.

Tuesday Mr. F. J. Imboden, late poor-house keeper, came to town with a petition asking the County Court to appoint him constable in and for Bell Mines precinct. Judge Moore accordingly appointed him, and with Wm.
Goode and Gus Rutherford as bondsmen, he qualified, making the third constables, but four districts are without these officials. This is about the only office that goes begging for some body to take it. The pay is always at the minimum figures, consequently those who accept the honors cannot afford to devote a great deal of time to official duty, even if they have business, which they do not always find.

For Sale.—One 20-horse power engine and boiler on wheels, and sawing; sawblade 48 inches diameter,

lever set up, which I will sell cheap,
and will take some stock in the trade.

Salem, Ky.

NOTICE.

The Board of Town Trustees have directed me to proceed at once to collect the town tax for 1892. The payment must be made at once, no delays will be entertained; I will be around in a few days, money ready,
or I will be compelled to levy.

A. WILBORN, Collector.

FOR SALE—A good family
horse, possesses all the necessary qualities; good under the saddle or in harness. Perfectly gentle for ladies to drive.

S. HODGE.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Cadiz, Ky., Jan. 16.—Nannie Hil-
man, colored, lost her two children, aged one and two years, by fire this morning.

She arose early, built a big fire in her cabin and locked the door, leaving the children asleep, and went to prepare breakfast where she was employed as a cook.

A few minutes after her departure
the cabin was in flames and the children were burned to a crisp.

Administrator's Sale.

I will on Wednesday Jan. 25th, sell to the highest bidder, on a credit of 12 months, at the residence of the late W. T. Rushing, all of the personal property of said decedent, consisting of corn, hogs, sheep, cattle, meat and lard, household and kitchen furniture and farming utensils. Sum under $5 cash in hand. Notes bearing 6 per cent interest required before property is moved.

A Temerarious Coon.

Monday Will Taylor went rabbit hunting; he shot at Brer Rabbit, the gun burst, breaking Bill's jaw bone,
and knocking out a few of his teeth.
Tuesday morning was driving a coal
